From: So Kim
Sent time: 07/24/2018 01:39:10 AM
To: David Pearce
Subject: RE: Southshore Coastal Trailhead missing bench

Hi David,
There's no specific bench design. Whatever matches what's out there is fine.

So

From: David Pearce
Sent: Monday, July 23, 2018 1:20 PM
To: So Kim <SoK@rpvca.gov>
Subject: FW: Southshore Coastal Trailhead missing bench

Hi So. I hope your summer is going very well.

Lily responded to my email below about this vandalized bench and they seem willing to replace it. She is asking is there a certain bench design that is needed. Are you aware of a specific bench design that must be used in Ocean Trail? Or are we okay to replace this bench with something comparable? I can contact PW to see if there is a certain manufacturer's catalogue they use. Any information on this will be helpful. Thank you. ---Dave

---

From: David Pearce
Sent: Thursday, July 19, 2018 6:23 PM
To: 'Lili Amini' <lamini@trumpnational.com>
Cc: Katie Lozano <KatieL@rpvca.gov>
Subject: Southshore Coastal Trailhead missing bench

Hi Lili. I hope you are well today. Say, we had to remove a vandalized bench that someone had removed from its spot at the Southshore Coastal Trailhead. They poised it on the edge of the cliff, so we had to tow it back and dismantle it to get it out of there. It was unusable as you can see on one of the attached photos at it is lying on the ground.

Another photo shows the vacant spot where a new bench needs to go back in. It can be similar to the other remaining bench that is currently nearby on the other side of the picnic table. The attached aerial photo shows the location of the vandalized bench (to the right of the blue triangle) prior to it being damaged. Would you folks be able to handle this replacement sometime soon? This is a primary visitor overlook spot and should have all the original number of benches in place. Let me know at your convenience how you plan to proceed. Thank you. ---Dave